

KAMPFGRUPPE GRAEBNER

(MECHANIZED COMPANY)

SS Captain Viktor Graebner was the commander of the 9.SS Reconnaissance Abteilung. He had been ordered to turn over his vehicles to the 10.SS in preparation for transfer of the 9.SS back to Germany for reconstitution. In the few hours following the Allied landings his men quickly "repaired" over 30 vehicles that had been listed as "unserviceable". Although Graebner was an officer in the 9.SS, his command was switched to the 10.SS, as a result of this strength and the dire need for his forces in the primary 10.SS area of operation, south of Arnhem.
