

KG HENKE - NIJMEGEN DEFENSE FORCE

(INFANTRY COMPANY)

At the time of the Allied landings Nijmegen was defended by a loose mix of Fallschirmjäger training troops, some Luftwaffe infantry detachments and various other low-grade infantry units supported by a limited assortment of anti-aircraft weapons. A strong battlegroup from the 10.SS was sent to establish a stout defense. The city and its railroad and all-important road bridge across the Waal would be bravely contested in a desperate struggle by all of these forces.
